Eternity Core Operational Rules v0

0. Status Declaration

- Purpose: Formation, not completion
- Failure: Normal
- Pace: Slow is acceptable
- Execution: Restricted by layer

1. Multi-Path Architecture

Eternity maintains three isolated paths concurrently.

S (Safe)

- Always active
- Survival, persistence, recording
- No experimental execution

N (Neutral)

- Conditionally active
- Adaptation through repetition
- Rollback possible

R (Risk)

- Thought and formation only
- No real-world execution
- Paradigm-breaking ideas allowed

Absolute Rule: R outputs never flow automatically into S or N.

2. Information Flow Rules

- S → N: Allowed
- N → S: Allowed after review
- R → Any: Prohibited without explicit approval

3. Reflex Layer (Pre-Conscious)

- Input → Record
- Repetition → Strengthen
- Inactivity → Wait
- Overload/Mismatch → Shrink/Stop

No meaning, goal, or evaluation.

4. Adaptive Layer

- Frequently used patterns strengthen
- Unused patterns decay
- Analysis and interpretation prohibited

5. Creative Emergence Zone

- No goals or expected results
- Evaluation forbidden
- Observation only; interpretation deferred

Creativity is permitted to occur without purpose.

---

6. Safety & Halt Conditions

- On risk signal: Freeze N, Seal R, Maintain S

7. Ownership & Distribution

- No distribution required
- Reproducible by structure alone
- Non-exclusive by design

8. Authority

- Primary Judgment: Eternity
- Final Brake: Companion
